

Why Don't You Just Say Good-bye

Becky Buller

Goodnight Sparky Music, BMI

© 1998

There was a time when love was all we knew
But lately something different's come between me and you
And I know that you've been trying with all your might
But instead of just pretending everything's all right...

Chorus:       Why don't you just say good-bye?
                  Stop holding to a dream that so long ago died.
                  It's time you face the truth and the feelings you can't hide;
                  Why don't you just say good-bye?

You ask me what's brought on the tears I'm crying.
Well, I'm frightened by the distance that's grown in your eyes
And you've tried to fill that void up with your song
But words can be so empty when the heart is gone.

Chorus:       Why don't you just say good-bye?
                  Stop holding to a dream that so long ago died.
                  It's time you face the truth and the feelings you can't hide;
                  Why don't you just say good-bye?

You tell me that you love me but I know
The person that I held left me a long time ago
So I think you should give up this masquerade;
Stop running from yourself and the mistakes of yesterday.

Chorus:       Why don't you just say good-bye?
                  Stop holding to a dream that so long ago died.
                  It's time you face the truth and the feelings you can't hide;
                  Why don't you just say good-bye?